Good to Know about Prague 19
WELCOME MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT

Dear Colleagues & Friends,

It is with great pleasure and pride that we invite you to join us in Ljubljana where our 49th EDTNA/ERCA International Conference, September 12–15, 2020 will take place. Ljubljana is Slovenia’s capital and its largest city, which is known for its university population and green spaces.

The theme of our Conference is “Knowledge, Skills & Commitment – Core Elements to Manage Care”. During the last two International Conferences, 2018 and 2019 our focus has been on ‘Balancing Compassion and Health Technologies’ and it’s integration. The next step is to Manage Care through the implementation of education and knowledge, which we hope you will acquire during the Conference while participating in our Scientific Programme, which will include Educational Sessions, Oral Poster Sessions, and Workshops.

Our Conference will take place at the Cankar Centre also known as Cankarjev Dom or Cankar Hall. Cankarjev Dom is the largest Slovenian convention, congress and culture centre. The building was designed by the architect Edvard Ravnikar and was built between 1977 and 1982.

The Conference is a forum for sharing knowledge, experience, research and innovations as well as the aiming to promote renal research and excellence in practice around the world. It is a showcase for the latest technology and innovation in the treatment and care with of patients with Chronic Kidney Disease.

For all of you there is a great opportunity to broaden your professional horizon, to meet our Industry Partners at the Exhibition, to share knowledge and experiences among each other, meet old friends, and extend your network by meeting new ones as well.

We are very much looking forward to welcoming you to Ljubljana!

GENERAL INFORMATION

Accreditation of Learning Hours
The 49th EDTNA/ERCA International Conference will be accredited. To ensure a maximum quality of education through a professional Scientific Programme, EDTNA/ERCA intends to obtain International Continuing Nursing Education Credits (ICNEC) for the International Conference in Ljubljana. The ICNEC are granted by the International Council of Nurses once strict admission conditions are fulfilled.

The ICNEC awards provide proof of a high-quality Conference. EDTNA/ERCA makes its best effort to render such opportunity to its delegates and members, so the approval for awarding International Continuing Nursing Education Credits (ICNECs) is currently being sought from the International Council of Nurses. Details of the sessions eligible for accreditation points will be published on the Conference website in August – www.edtnaerca.org.

ICNEC certificate will be provided upon the submission of the Conference Evaluation form.

Conference Badges
Each Conference Delegate and Exhibitor will receive a Conference badge upon registration. The Conference badge must be worn during the entire Conference to be able to enter the Scientific Sessions or the Exhibition and receive education accreditation when attending sessions. On your badge there is a barcode which will be scanned when entering and leaving each session hall.

Credits will be assigned according to the information received from the barcode system. This information is also used for safety reasons to register participants who are in the building in case of emergency. Therefore, it is important you present your badge at each session hall entrance.

Breaks
Coffee & tea will be provided during breaks. Lunch boxes will be provided at lunch time breaks on Sunday, September 13 and Monday, September 14.

Insurance
The Conference organizer cannot accept liability for personal injuries sustained or for loss or damage of property belonging to Conference participants, either during or as a result of the Conference. Please check the validity of your own insurance.

Letter of Invitation
The organizers will be pleased to send a letter of invitation upon request, once your registration form and fee have been received. Such an invitation is intended to help you to raise travel funds or obtain a visa. It is not a commitment on the part of the Conference to provide any financial support. You may request such a letter from the Conference Department at edtnaerca2020@guarant.cz.

Mobile Application
The Mobile Application will be available before the Conference and for download via Google and Apple store. You can use it to prepare your personal Conference programme, download abstracts, posters, participate in Conference surveys, vote for the best poster and for other useful information.

A number of functions for feedback and participation are possible: i.e. delegates may send questions or comments to the speakers during the sessions, may rate speakers, presentations and sessions, may give feedback on the Conference, and more E-Poster rating will be available for Conference participants via Conference Application for mobile phones.

The Mobile Application will be updated with news and any programme changes during the Conference.

Official Language
All oral presentations and posters must be in English. Special sessions might be organized in languages other than English and without translation. All hostesses and Conference staff speak English and other languages.

Annual General Meeting (AGM) of EDTNA/ERCA
Many delegates are members of EDTNA/ERCA; the Association is taking the opportunity to hold its Annual General Meeting; all are invited, members, delegates and all interested in the work of EDTNA/ERCA. Please kindly note only those of the membership category “Member” can submit motions and vote.

SCIENTIFIC PROGRAMME

The Scientific Programme will be scheduled in the best way to allocate all presentations and workshops putting special attention not to allocate the same topics in parallel sessions. We want to give you the opportunity to attend the maximum sessions of your interest!

There will be two types of Parallel Oral Sessions:
1. Sessions with Guest Speakers will have the following structure: Guest Speaker presentation + two oral presentations + three short oral presentations.
2. Sessions without Guest Speakers will have the following structure: Four oral presentations + three short oral presentations. The aim is to invite and involve leading renal nurses and practitioners as Guest Speakers.

Session timings:
- Guest Speakers = 30 min including questions
- Oral Session = 15 min including questions
- Short Oral Session = 10 min including questions

At the Conference 2020 the E-poster approach will be maintained. The E-posters on interactive screens will be on display during the entire Conference.

Poster Sessions will be organized for the authors who wish to present their E-posters. An E-poster Session of 90 minutes will have 10 E-posters for presentation (5 minutes of presentation time each).

GOOD TO KNOW ABOUT LJUBLJANA

Ljubljana is the political and cultural heart of the Slovenian nation. It is an important European commercial, business, exhibition and congressional centre as well as the transport, science and education centre of Slovenia.

A PEOPLE-FRIENDLY CITY
As its inhabitants and numerous visitors will tell you, Ljubljana is, indeed, a people-friendly city. Categorised as a medium-sized European city, it offers everything a metropolis does yet preserves its small-town friendliness.

Its geographical position in the centre of Europe has determined Ljubljana as a natural meeting place for merchants and soldiers as well as – and more than once – peacemakers. The victors of the Napoleonic wars selected this peaceful city as the site of the Holy Alliance congress, which in 1821 sealed the European political geography for years to come.

THE OLD MEETS THE NEW
In Ljubljana the old meets the new; and it seems that history has spent all of the settlement’s five millennia preparing it to become the nation’s capital. It has managed to retain traces from all periods of its rich history; from the legacy of Roman Emona; through to the Renaissance, Baroque and Art Nouveau periods characterised in the house fronts and ornate doorways of the city centre, the romantic bridges adorning the Ljubljanica river, the lopsided rooftops and a park reaching deep into the city centre. Here eastern and western cultures met; and the Italian concept of art combined with the sculptural aesthetics of Central European cathedrals.

The city owes its present appearance partly to Italian baroque and partly to Art Nouveau, which is the style of the numerous buildings erected immediately after the earthquake of 1895. In the first half of the 20th century, modern Ljubljana was shaped by the strong personal style of Jože Plečnik, a great European architect and a local of Ljubljana. The cityscape was complemented by his modernist followers as well as by creations of the “New Wave” of acknowledged young architects. All the different facets of Ljubljana blend harmoniously into a single image.

A CITY OF CULTURE
Ljubljana is a city of culture. It is home to numerous theatres, museums and galleries, and boasts one of the oldest philharmonic orchestras in the world. The first music society in Slovenia, the Academia Philharmonicorum, was founded in 1701. It was a vehicle for baroque music and also facilitated the development of musical production in this region. Its honorary members included such renowned composers as Joseph Haydn, Ludwig van Beethoven and Johannes Brahms, and distinguished musicians such as the violinist Nicolo Paganini. Between 1881 and 1882, at the very start of his career, Gustav Mahler was its resident conductor.

For the people of Ljubljana culture is a way of living and thinking and is very much a part of everyday life. Over 10,000 cultural events take place in the city every year, among which there are 10 international festivals. The inhabitants of Ljubljana and its visitors can admire artists from all the different fields – from music, theatre and fine arts to the alternative and avant-garde. In warmer months, the tables and chairs of the numerous cafés fill the banks of the Ljubljanica and the old city markets. It is here, after an almost obligatory Saturday visit to the Ljubljana market or the Sunday flea market, that the locals meet for a morning coffee or for an evening chat with friends.

A MODERN AND LIVELY CITY
The first impression a visitor gets of Ljubljana is that it is an exceptionally young city. It is home to over 50,000 students, who give it a special vibe. As four Slovene regions meet in Ljubljana, the city’s numerous restaurants and inns offer a wide range of local delicacies, not to mention superb wines. Ljubljana did not earn the label of “the city of wine and vine” for nothing. In the past it was the wine-trading centre of the region and grapevines were planted on the slopes leading up to the present-day castle by the inhabitants of the Roman settlement of Emona. Today scientists are drawn to the city because of its high-calibre institutes and university, as are artists due to its world-famous graphic biennial, art academy and countless art galleries. International businessmen, economists and experts from all fields frequently attend the city’s many business and congressional meetings, exhibitions and trade fairs.

In short: Ljubljana is a city that people often return to, be it because of work or because of pleasant memories of previous visits. It is similar to a number of other pleasant European cities – yet it is different – and if you want to be fully assured that Ljubljana is an interesting, pretty and friendly place then just ask the locals – they love it. And with a name that, according to one theory, means beloved, how could they do otherwise?
