

Dear All,

The Israeli National Nephrology Conference took place March 7th, at the Conference Center in Ramat Gan, Israel. Approximately 200 nephrology nurses from different areas of Israel participated in this scientific national event. The topic of the conference was ethics in nephrology practice.

During the scientific program I had a 20 minutes presentation. During the conference I presented a video about all the presentations of Israeli delegation that were presented at a conference in Krakow.

I promoted the organization, its mission, vision and goals and wished the best of luck to nurses who submitted Abstracts for the Genova Conference, and updated the audience with details regarding the conference. I also encouraged nurses to take an active part in the translation of the electronic library documents.

During the conference I had a booth, where I represented EDTNA/ERCA for the Israeli nephrology team. It was a great opportunity to meet nurses from different parts of our country as an EDTNA/ERCA volunteer. I answered questions regarding the EDTNA/ERCA organization, promote new publications and give explanations regarding membership advantages. And I am delighted to share with you some of my memories from the Conference.

If you have any questions, please don't hesitate to contact me.

With very warm regards,

*Galia Rusakov Barbalat
EDTNA/ERCA Brand Ambassador Israel*
